DECORATIVE FLOOR TILE COLLECTION

For nearly 800 years, the Andalucia region of Spain and Portugal was ruled and developed by North African Moorish civilizations - cultures which identified the Divinity within complex mathematical designs. During the Reconquista, Christian Spaniards slowly retook these artistically fertile lands and planted the seeds of the European Renaissance.

The Decorative Floor Tile Collection draws from this singular circumstance where the art and architecture of two strikingly unique cultures were combined. By lingering in libraries and museums of antiquities, we have constructed a story where light glances off the tooled-leather saddle of a Conquistador and illuminates the zellij mosaics in the courtyard of the Alhambra. The sun begins to disappear behind a bloom of red wine on the sidewalks of Barcelona and warms your parlour floor like a fond memory. Create your own story by contacting an authorized distributor.

Our beeswax finishes are not proprietary secrets; rather they emerged through the practice of longstanding terra cotta traditions. We proudly maintain close relationships with local beekeepers to provide the raw beeswax used in our Decorative Floor Tile finishes.

Technical Notes

Application: The Decorative Floor Tile series are intended for use in residential interiors on horizontal and vertical surfaces. The tiles are not recommended for exterior installations in an environment encountering freezing temperatures or where subterranean moisture may wick through the installation.

Variation: Because of the handcrafted nature of our tiles, many of the products may exhibit variation in size, shape, color, and texture. These variations are inherent in materials such as ours and are a defining element in the beauty of the final installation. Samples are available upon request and are provided as an indication of a particular product and are for reference only. Due to inherent variations, individual samples cannot be considered exact representations. We also recommend that all materials be shuffled during installation. Printed colors may not be accurate.

Ordering: An interior designer or tile contractor should provide the owner/agents with quantity requirements for purposes of ordering. We recommend that sufficient overage is included in orders to allow for breakage in jobsite handling and waste resulting from saw cuts, because additions may not correspond to the original material. It is the responsibility of the owner/purchaser and those acting on behalf of the owner to verify that the material specified is appropriate for its final application and to review and approve materials before they are shipped.

Maintenance: Sweep regularly and damp mop as needed using a compatible neutral floor cleaner. Periodic reapplication of a liquid floor wax is recommended to clean and protect the floor from excessive wear, and to develop and maintain the brilliance of the finish. Commercial floor finishes formulated with compatible acrylic wax copolymers may also be applied according to manufacturer specifications for regular maintenance.

Installation: Refer to the Tile Council of America publication, Handbook for Ceramic Tile Installation, following instructions for your specific type of installation. We recommend that our tiles are installed only by an experienced handmade tile installer. Because of the interconnected designs of many of our floor tiles, it is also recommended that the installer perform a "dry run" prior to permanent installation, to determine the necessary allowances between components. Use of a grout of dark tonal value is recommended. During the process of grouting, slight abrasion on edges and crowns of the tiles may result. To reduce the likelihood of such abrasion, grout should be prepared to the most fluid consistency allowable. Care should be taken to avoid repeated tooling of grout over the surface of the tiles. Immediately after the grout is cured and dry, the entire installation must be finished with two applications of the supplied liquid paste wax. This will enrich and renew abraded areas of the tile, serve to eliminate grout haze, offer protection from traffic, and act as a foundation for future maintenance systems. This wax paste may also be used during installation to refinish saw cut edges of tiles.
